

CESO in Atlantic Canada

STRENGTHENING SKILLS & BUILDING NETWORKS

CESO works with Indigenous businesses and communities to build capacity and foster economic growth.

For over 50 years, we have been matching highly skilled experts with entrepreneurs, communities and businesses to share their knowledge and expertise in a collaborative, advisory and coaching framework.

For over 50 years we have worked with Indigenous communities and businesses in the Atlantic provinces. Our focus is to build local capacity and connect clients to business networks. CESO Advisors support clients to enhance their market readiness and business growth.

Since 2015, CESO has completed 11 assignments across Newfoundland and Labrador, New Brunswick and Nova Scotia, providing clients with advisory support, training and mentorship in the following areas:

- Marketing and Communications
- Strategic Planning
- Business Development
- Financial Planning
- Fundraising
- Management Skills Training
- Leadership Development
- Environmental Remediation
- Land Management

“The Advisor and I developed a good working relationship and together we were able to host two successful Aboriginal Women For Tomorrow workshops for Inuit women. After each workshop, we received positive feedback from the participants on how the workshop helped them advance their skills in a safe and supportive environment. I would definitely recommend CESO to other organizations looking for reliable and knowledgeable staff and volunteers to assist them with their training needs.”
