MERIT's goal is to enhance public sector management of the Mongolian mining and petroleum sectors to maximize their contribution to sustainable economic and social development through responsible resource management.

PROJECT OVERVIEW

MERIT is a seven-year project (2016-2023) funded by Global Affairs Canada, implemented through a partnership between two Canadian non-profit organizations: Canadian Executive Services Organization (CESO) and World University Service of Canada (WUSC).

Through support provided by experienced Technical Advisers (TAs), MERIT works closely with Mongolian partners at the central and local level involved in the extractive sector to build capacity through methodology, training, and tools adapted to local needs.

PROJECT OUTCOMES

Strengthening the capacity management practices of key public sector agencies

Enhancing collaboration of regional and local level public sector agencies with key stakeholders impacted by extractive sector activity

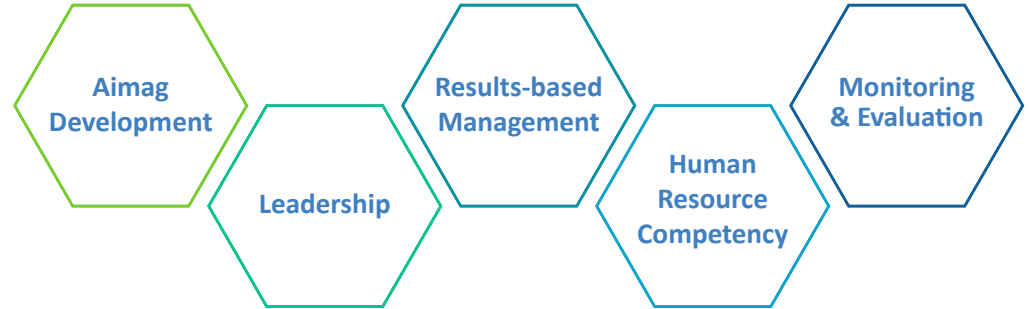

Improving the delivery of quality training programs of targeted training institutions

Promoting and mainstreaming gender equality in the extractive sector
